

Summary Given In Official Survey On Incorporation

(Editor's Note: This is the tenth and final report of the findings of Robert O. Bailey, administrative consultant, who was employed by a special committee from the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce to study the feasibility of incorporating the area into a city).

On the basis of material contained in the report, the consultant makes the following recommendations:

1. That the Truckee area should not consider separate incorporation at the present time.
2. That the combined Truckee and Donner Lake area would find incorporation both economically feasible and productive of a higher level of public service than is presently enjoyed. On this basis, it is recommended that the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce Committee on Incorporation attempt to bring the question of incorporation of the Truckee Donner Lake area to a public vote at a special election held for this purpose.

Carlson Fund Up As Work Goes On

With checks and cash still coming in daily from all parts of the west, the Glenn Carlson Memorial Fund has gone to $2,711, according to Mrs. Frank Quilici and Mrs. Jack Houlgate, two of the several sponsors of the drive.

In the meantime, work is continuing on the Carlson home for Mrs. June Carlson and her three small children but there is still considerable finish work and therein lies a bit of trouble. The leaders in the movement to get the home completed are unable to do this type of work and have had some difficulty finding the right craftsman.

Mrs. Carlson and the children returned home the day after Christmas after spending the holiday with her late husband's parents in the bay area.

Carlson was shot and killed by one of three alleged bank robbers on November 15 when he stopped the car along Donner Lake to question them regarding a fictitious license plate.

Neighbors and friends banded together to assist Mrs. Carlson in completing the home which the couple had started in Donner Trail Estates before he was killed and individuals and organizations throughout the west have generously contributed to the fund, contributions being sent to the Sierra Sun or Bank of America.

December Was Dry Month With Only Little Precipitation

December was an unusually dry month in this area, according to a report from the Truckee office of the Tahoe National Forest.

During the month there was only .72 of an inch of precipitation recorded in the six inches of snow which fell. This compares with a normal of 6.23 for December.

The total precipitation for the season since September 1, is 10.54 inches, while the normal for the period, according to the forest service is 11.79 inches, leaving the area only 1.25 inches under normal, despite the dry December.

Boy Are Questioned For Tree Damage

Four boys, ranging from 13 to 15 years of age, have admitted damaging the Christmas display which was built by the officials of the Truckee office of the U. S. Forest Service last month and which graced the hillside just north of the freeway in East Truckee.

Deputy Sheriff Leo Zander said he apprehended the four boys slashing posters in the S. P. depot and questioning led to admission that they were the ones who broke globes on the Christmas tree and toppled the figures of Santa and Smokey the Bear.

They also admitted, Zander said, to damaging a Christmas scene on a garage near High Street.

All four were required to pay for damage done and were remanded to their parents for punishment.

Land Exchange Is Approved By Board

AUBURN—The board of supervisors has approved a proposed land exchange involving 391 acres in the Sierra between the Southern Pacific Land Company and the U. S. Forest Service.

The trade includes 151 acres of Southern Pacific land along Deep Creek about four miles north of Squaw Valley, for 240 acres of forest and on Schallenberg Ridge south of Donner Lake.

Forestry officials stated the Deep Creek land has a virgin stand of white and red fir, and the other parcel is near the railroad right of way where the company plans to build avalanche barriers to protect against snow slides.

RESIDENTS LOSE OUT FOR REGISTRATION

There will be many residents of the Tahoe Forest Hospital District who will be unable to vote at the bond election on January 21 because they failed to register, but other elections are coming up and everyone qualified is being urged to prepare.

Qualified voters are required to register at least 54 days prior to an election.

There are two deputy registrars in Truckee, one at Welch's Hardware and one at the justice court. At Brockway and Kings Beach, Velda Farris at the chamber of commerce is a deputy and at Tahoe City residents may register with Herbert Kahn, Elizabeth Renner, Marie Henry or Mary Borowman.

SCHOOL TO REOPEN IN DISTRICT MONDAY

After a two-week recess, students in the Tahoe Truckee Unified District will return to classes next Monday.

The basketball squads will go into action January 11 at 6:30 p. m. when they travel to Colfax to play. The next home game will be on January 17 when Stewart will invade the local court.

FORM CORPORATION

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan this week announced the Ponderosa Golf Club, Inc., has filed articles of incorporation naming Reynold C. Johnson, Concord; Jack E. Jensen, San Francisco and Alex Stewart, Truckee, as directors.

Meetings Called To Explain Bond Issue Questions

Meetings in four communities of the Tahoe Forest Hospital District, during which a panel consisting of the hospital directors, the hospital auxiliary and members of the medical staff will answer questions in connection with the forthcoming bond issue, have been announced.

Voters in the various communities will have an opportunity at these meetings to familiarize themselves with facts and figures and arrive at a decision.

The election will be held January 21 to decide on a bond issue to provide sorely needed expansion of the local institution.

The meetings will be held at 8 p. m. in the following places: Tahoe City: Wednesday, January 8—Tahoe Lake School.

Soda Springs: Thursday, January 9—Donner Trail School.

Kings Beach: Tuesday, January 14—Kings Beach School.

Truckee: Thursday, January 16—Truckee Elementary School.

Retail Sales Gain In Nevada County

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Retail sales in Nevada County during the July-September quarter of 1963 posted a gain of 20.8 per cent from the same quarter a year ago as the state set an all-time high for the third quarter.

The total sales subject to the state's 3 per cent sales tax in the county were $9,519,000 for the quarter. This produced $285,570 in sales tax, which amounted to .14 per cent of the state total.

For the state, retail sales in the July-September quarter totaled $7 billion and produced $210 million in sales tax. This was a gain of nearly 9 per cent from a year ago. Only tiny Alpine County, with sales of $118,000 during the quarter, failed to post an increase from 1962, and, instead, showed a decline of 19.2 per cent.

Beardsley Given Honor By Realtors

TAHOE CITY—Charles Beardsley of Tahoe City has been appointed chairman of the resort section for California Real Estate Association by CREA President Art Lritch. Beardsley served as northern California vice chairman last year.

In addition to conducting three of the four statewide resort section meetings last year, Beardsley also arranged and conducted a seminar at the state board of directors meeting last spring. He has been active in subdividing, building and real estate selling at Lake Tahoe since 1947.

A charter organizer of St. Nicholas Church in Tahoe City, Beardsley was lay vicar at that church for two years. He is a former educator and for two years has served as president of the Tahoe Sierra Board of Realtors. Under his leadership the board has installed multiple listing and has experienced a 120 per cent increase in membership.

MRS. MITCHELL TELLS OF UNIQUE YULE TREE

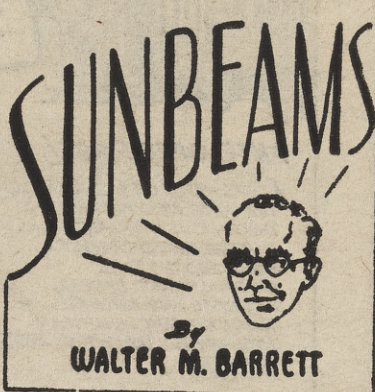

Mrs. Jeannette Mitchell, formerly of Tahoe City but now secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, writes that the chamber there again this year unwrapped its famous floating Christmas tree.

For seven consecutive nights before Christmas, the huge 40-foot tree, mounted on a channel ferryboat and loaded with caroleers, travels eight miles by the front doors of channel homes. Visitors from many states are attracted by the colorful, unique display which is accompanied by scores of decorated boats on the 2½-hour trip.

The float has been viewed by the people of Newport Harbor for the past 17 years and each year the spectacle becomes bigger.

Vacations

Vacationers during the holidays was the William Drullas family going to Cathedral City and the M. L. Franklins made a recent trip to Van Nuys.

WALTER M. BARRETT

When the Tahoe Forest Hospital was belatedly built in 1952 to serve then "current needs of the residents of this area and care for the injured and ill passing through, it was very adequate. The 21-bed facility provided for the small population and one or two doctors comprised the medical staff. Since then things have changed materially. Our population has undergone a radical growth, the travel through the area has multiplied many times, the medical staff has gone from two to eight and the demands upon the little hospital have increased accordingly. During the 11 years the institution has functioned well and much new modern equipment has been installed. However, the 21 beds and limited space for surgery, maternity and other treatment areas are no longer consistent with the demands. The occupancy is even now 20 per cent above the state average and the area it serves is growing at a continuing fast rate. This condition has made it absolutely necessary for the governing board to request the voters to approve a $1,150,000 bond issue to provide the essentials to bring the hospital up to today's standards. The bond election set for January 21 must carry if the hospital is to keep near the pace set by the district. The board, the staff and administration have done a terrific job with what they have had to work with, but the time is overdue when facilities must be expanded. The current tax rate for the hospital—15 cents—is the lowest of any of the services we have, with the possible exception of the cemetery district, and this rate will not be increased to any great degree by passage of the $1,150,000 bond issue this month. The directors are asking only for the essentials and it is up to the voters of the district to see to it these essentials are made available.

Registration renewal service is available at DMV's 144 field offices, at more than 150 banks operating with the department during the renewal period, and at auto clubs handling registrations for their members.

Bright cautioned vehicle owners "to apply for registration renewal at bank stations only if they can present a punched card renewal statement." These fee statements were mailed to California vehicle owners on December 26.

Owners may also renew their vehicle registrations by mailing the punched card statements and fees according to instructions on the backs of the cards.

Vehicle License Fees Are Due At DMV Office Here

Today marks the official beginning of the department of motor vehicles' annual registration renewal period for California vehicle owners.

Vehicles may be registered for 1964, and fees paid, between now and February 4, DMV Director Tom Bright announced.

Bright expects owners of about 9.5 million cars, trucks, trailers, motorcycles and other vehicles to apply for 1964 registrations during the next five weeks.

On payment of fees, DMV will issue white reflectorized stickers to be affixed to the upper left corner of rear license plates.

Lunardi Is Named To Senate Boards

Senator Paul J. Lunardi, representing Placer, Nevada and Sierra Counties has been appointed by the senate rules committee to the important senate fact finding committee on natural resources. Lunardi advised that this committee conducts investigations bearing upon oil, gas, mines, soil conservation, small craft harbors, beaches and parks, forestry, fish and game, recreation and the public domain.

"This appointment" said Lunardi, "will permit me to continue direct participation in developing policy with regard to those resources upon which this district is vitally dependent. I feel that my years in the assembly during which time I authored many bills on these subjects will prove to be extremely valuable in considering specific subjects assigned to the fact finding committee."

Registrations Open At Sierra College

New students planning to enroll at Sierra College for the spring semester in late January were reminded today by Registrar Martin Taylor that applications are now being accepted.

All applicants must present high school and college transcripts of work completed and a completed application form before they can be scheduled for counseling and registration for classes.

January 24 is the last date that applicants can be assured of admission, according to the registrar of the Rocklin College. Appointments for counseling begin on January 30, with new students registering on January 30 and 31. Presently enrolled students with no grades below C will enroll on January 28 and 29.

Evening school enrollment will occur January 28-30 from 6:30 to 9 p. m., with spring semester instruction starting February 3.

SMUDGE POTS START KINGS BEACH BLAZE

KINGS BEACH—Volunteers of the North Tahoe Fire Protection District responded to a bright but otherwise minor blaze at 1:30 a. m. Christmas Eve. The fire started when orchard-type smudge pots ignited a large plastic covering being used to cover a large concrete slab.

The arrangement had been installed to speed drying of the cement in the sub-freezing weather. Lars Erikson, owner of a prefabricated cement plant in Tahoe City, reported only minor loss, according to Fire Chief Joe Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stout, Linda Stout and Ann Morey enjoyed the holiday at Las Vegas and Arizona.

2 Christmas Babies Arrive For Locals; Others Are Born

Two local families were favored with Christmas babies, one born at the Tahoe Forest Hospital and the other at Reno.

Michael Lawrence Likes, seven pounds, 6½ ounces arrived at the Tahoe Forest Hospital at 4:08 a. m. to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Likes of Tahoe City. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bud Likes of El Monte and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zalolski of Donner Lake.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Becholdt of Tahoe City at St. Mary's Hospital in Reno Christmas Day.

Other new arrivals at the Tahoe Forest Hospital during the week included Jeffery Allen Bergen, six pounds, 7½ ounces, who was born December 29 to Mr. and Mrs. Gary L. Bergen of Tahoe City.

Shawna Renee Anderson, six pounds, 10 ounces, arrived December 30 to Mr. and Mrs. M. Rex Anderson of Soda Springs.

Busy Weekend At Hospital Reported

The Tahoe Forest Hospital experienced one of its busiest weekends last week as emergencies kept the staff and facilities taxed to beyond capacity.

Administrator J. J. McGlade reported that on Friday there were 28 emergency cases treated and seven were admitted to beds. On Saturday, 23 emergency treatments were required and 13 were admitted for further treatment. Sunday, every room was filled to capacity and three beds were occupied in the halls.

Most of the emergencies were skiers who had suffered injuries at various winter resorts in the area and for the most part were treated and released. However, many were kept in the hospital for further treatment and every member of the medical staff was kept busy.

The incident is not an isolated one, McGlade pointed out in emphasizing the need for additional space to handle the ever-growing demand on the hospital.

Voters on January 21 will be given an opportunity to solve the problem when they will be asked to approve a $1,150,000 bond issue to provide for expansion of the facilities.

JOHNSON WILL TAKE FLAG TO INNSBRUCK

The Olympic flag which was used at the 1960 Winter Olympic Games in Squaw Valley in 1960, will be sent to the 1964 Olympics in Innsbruck, Austria.

The flag Friday was presented to Congressman Harold T. Johnson of the second district who will take it to the European games. The presentation to Johnson was made by Governor Edmund G. Brown.

COLLEGE SKI TEAMS TO OPEN SCHEDULE

Opening competition in the Far West Ski Association Intercollegiate schedule is slated for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week when the Northern California Invitational will be held at Sugar Bowl, Donner Ski Ranch and Squaw Valley. Sierra College will be the host school.

Schools expected to compete include the University of Nevada, Sierra College, Chico State, California, Stanford, Siskiyou and Arizona State.

SNOW FALLS

Light snow fell throughout the area last night, delighting the ski enthusiasts with a powder cover for the packed snow. Skiing was reported good at all resorts. Skid chain control was enforced over Donner between 10:30 last night and 4 a. m. today.

REUNION AT LLOYDS

A happy reunion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lloyd when their son, Second Class Airman Harry Woodward spent four days during Christmas time from the Vandenberg U. S. Air Force Base near Santa Barbara. Woodward also visited former school friends during his brief stay.

New Study Asked To Reevaluate Big Washoe Project

RENO — Senator Alan Bible of Nevada announced he has requested a new study of cost-benefit ratios on the multi-million dollar Washoe reclamation project on the Truckee and Carson rivers.

The study also will re-evaluate the anticipated use of domestic and industrial water, and recreational water to be made available by the project.

Bible, a ranking member of the senate interior committee, directed Roy Whitacre, committee staff member, to come to Western Nevada and enter into discussions with all interested groups relative to the re-evaluation.

In announcing the decision to re-evaluate the Washoe Project plan, Bible said "since congress passed the Washoe Project Act of 1954, many changes have occurred and it is reasonable to assume that a shift in costs from one area to another, as well as meeting the demands for recreation and the future demand for domestic and industrial water may well require changes compatible with the times in the basic Washoe Project plan."

Opponents of the project as presently planned contend there will be major damages to fish and wildlife interests and that congress, when it authorized the project in 1954, declared fish and wildlife enhancement a major purpose of the project.

Recreationists are asking that water be made available for the natural spawning of Pyramid Lake cutthroat trout in the lower Truckee River and that present water supplies to the Stillwater Wildlife Management Area on the lower Carson River be maintained.

Following an on-the-ground inspection, Whitacre will report back to Bible and members of the senate interior committee. Further discussions are expected to be held with various bureau officials in Washington after the report is filed by Whitacre.

Juniors To Play In Hockey Game Jan 8

TAHOE CITY — The junior hockey team of Squaw Valley will tangle with a hard-playing team from Walnut Creek on Saturday, January 4 at Blyth Arena in Squaw Valley. The local team has made fine showings in all its games this season and experts forecast that this game will be a very close game. Game time is set for 6 p. m.

The Squaw Valley team, who will be playing in their new uniforms of red, white and blue colors, is composed of Lance Poulson, Chris Burner, Chris LaTour, Pat Payton, Butch Butler and Brian Mullen. They are being coached by Pete Gallagher, Hans Von Nolde and Joe Auckenthaler.

MRS. KYDD TO HEAD NAOMI REBEKAHS

Mrs. Callie Kydd will be installed as noble grand of Naomi Rebekah Lodge No. 2 at a meeting of the lodge to be held January 8.

Mrs. Julia Davis presided at the last meeting which was a Christmas party and successful. Paula Quist, Lorna Boren and Dorothy Slack served on the committee and refreshments were served.

Donations were received from the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs for the children's home at Gilroy to help provide Christmas for the children there.

BIDS ARE ASKED ON HIGHWAY 40 WORK

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The state division of highways has called for bids for constructing an interchange at Crystal Springs Road on U. S. 40, about one-half mile west of Baxter.

The work will include an overcrossing.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento February 5, with $300,000 available.

CLAMPERS INVITED TO COLOMA SESSION

Members of Chief Truckee Chapter of E. Clampus Vitus have been invited to participate in the gold discovery celebration at Coloma, January 25, sponsored by the James Marshall Chapter.

There will be two parades, the first in Placerville at 1 p. m. and immediately following at Coloma where the initiation, slippery gulch and barbecue will be held.

Noble Grand Humbig Vic Koplin urges all Clampers to send their $5 for the works to Box 472, Placerville.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

KINGS BEACH — The regular meeting of the directors of the North Tahoe Fire Protection District will be held at 7:30 p. m. on January 8 at headquarters. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Bill and Bernie Bechdolt of Tahoe City had seven reasons for a very merry Christmas when daughter Mary Christina made her first appearance with a birth weight of 5 pounds, 14 ounces at 4:30 p. m. on Christmas Day at St. Mary's Hospital in Reno. Brothers and sisters Julie Ann, Cheryl, Michael, Lynnel, Jim and Mark were delighted with the Christmas package.

Among the students holidaying at their family homes here are Sue Moyer, of the University of California at Davis; Linda Knol of the University of California at Berkeley who is vacationing with her parents in Chicago; Ruthie Poulsen of Sacramento State College; Paul Sullivan of Bellarmine Prep in San Jose; Carlo Costello of Sacramento State College; Pat Lewis of Stephens College in Missouri; Wayne Poulsen, Jr. of the University of Washington; Kay Clauser of the University of Nevada; Sandy Fellows of the University of Pacific; John Holley of Stanford University; and Jim Bechdolt of Christian Brothers Academy in Sacramento.

Great crowds of skiers have been swarming the slopes at Alpine Meadows over the holidays and this last weekend almost broke their attendance record, according to Manager Tim Sullivan. One of the big groups visiting the area was a party from the Folsom School District. One of the big attractions there have been the 5 p. m. fondue parties.

Wilma and Steve Korich of the Highlands enjoyed a Christmas holiday with the Shipton family in Oroville.

Mrs. Angie Bonino and Mrs. Bill Connors were hostesses at a lovely baby shower which was given in Taking the center spotlight from the young and attractive Collins Kids are the Esquires—the vocal, instrumental, and comedy trio well known to aficionados of the Reno-Tahoe entertainment circuit.

The Esquire Trio, formerly associated with Doris Day, has a well-deserved reputation as one of the leading supper club acts in the west. With Bob Hanna on piano, Joe Martini on accordion, and Eddie Bee on bass, the trio romp through a collection of hilarious musical novelty routines, then turn serious for some exciting vocal stylings and instrumentals.

Larry and Lorrie Collins, stars of television, radio and the rodeo circuit, are completing their tour at Tahoe's North End in a blaze of glory. Young Larry's singing and guitar playing has only been matched by the vivacious "star-quality" of young Lorrie.

The Esquires take stage center until January 26.

INSTANT STICKTOITIVENESS for people who keep slipping up on saving

If you're long on planning to save money, and short on following through, here's an idea that's tailor made for you: The Payroll Savings Plan.

It starts you saving instantly. Doesn't cost you a nickel's worth of will power. And it can give you thousands of dollars in savings before you know it.

The idea of the plan is cunningly simple: you don't save your money, you put somebody else up to it. Your employer.

Every payday you have him set aside a small amount from your pay and put it towards the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond. You don't see the money that's being saved, so you hardly miss it. And since your employer's not apt to forget about saving—your nest egg builds up fast.

Millions of Americans use the Payroll Savings Plan to save money, so you know it works. The money you save this way helps your country, too, by giving Uncle Sam financial strength to stand up to the enemies of freedom.

Why not say the word to your paymaster and get started saving this pay-day? Your new perseverance will amaze your friends, your family and yourself.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

It is our wish that everyone had a Merry Christmas and that the New Year will be a happy prosperous one. We also want to thank each and every one for their thoughtfulness and help in writing this column during the past year and hope to have the same support and cooperation during 1964.

Cindy Plunkett, daughter of Ray and Joy Plunkett of Crystal Bay, celebrated her 12th birthday, November 21. A party given by her parents was held later and guests were invited to supper, after which games and dancing were enjoyed. Among those present were Mary Crow, Christine Clark, Jan Jensen, Georgia Burris, Shari and Debbie Smith, Debbie Burgance, Tommy Baker, Mike Cook, Lyle Draney, Steve Holley, Stanley Mason, Pieter Van Tassel, and from Reno, Patti and Kathy Yori. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Karl Harried, Paul Paxton, Lucille Caine and parents enjoyed the evening with the young people.

Ray and Joy Plunkett returned home to Crystal Bay in time for Christmas after taking a motor trip to Mexico where they visited Moztalon, San Blas and Guadalajara. Ray has finally achieved an ambition — caught a 150 pound black marlin at Moztalon. He is having it mounted and will have it to display as a souvenir which should make many another fisherman envious.

The Plunketts made another trip after they returned from Mexico, much to the delight of their children. They all went to Disneyland, the wax museum, Marineland and Knotts Berry Farm.

Christmas was spent at home with grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Karl Harried, enjoying the holiday with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Turchet of Napa spent Christmas as guests of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Turchet of Kings Beach.

Jim and Corrine Hilgeson and children Debbie, Jimmy and Derek of Tahoe Vista spent Christmas with relatives at San Jose.

LaZelle Marley and daughter, Sandi Olsen, of Tahoe Vista spent the holidays visiting relatives. Visited LaZelle's mother, Mrs. Hazel Osburne at Wheatland, her son and family the Donnard Olsens at Woodland and daughter and family, the Norman Kamps at Monterey.

The Walter Speeters and children, George and Elizabeth, have returned to Carnelian Bay after an absence of two years. Walt is taking over his old business at Carnelian Bay—a lumber and supply company.

Newcomers to Incline Village from Anaheim are Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkinson and son Peter. Peter is a student at the University of Nevada.

Linda Tiller returned home from Stephens College to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Harold and Ann Tiller of Incline Village.

Mrs. Jean Riggs of Los Angeles is spending the holidays with her daughter and new son in law, Marlene and Jim McCourry and grandchildren, Valarie and Dean, at Incline Village.

Jim and Marlene, who were married recently, are enjoying their new home at Incline Village. Much happiness, to two of our favorite people.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Burghardt of Tahoe Vista enjoyed the holidays with their daughter Mrs. Margaret McNeil and grandchildren in Los Angeles.

Guests of Bob and Mickey Stevenson at Kings Beach for Christmas were the Gil Langtons of San Francisco and the Carl Ravazzos of Reno. The group enjoyed the show at the south shore during their stay.

Guests of Tom and Hazel James at Tahoe Vista are Bob and Lucy Collins, formerly of Los Angeles.

Tim Sullivan of Alpine Meadows has started a new cheese fondue party for skiers starting at 5 o'clock on the weekends which he says is a big success. Races for the small fry will start this weekend which is an innovation for Alpine Meadows.

Squaw Valley Lodge had its annual party Christmas Eve with skiers coming down the mountain with lighted torches. The skiers were from the ski school and they lighted the way for Santa Claus who followed them with presents for the children who were there. Carolers added their touch to the festivities.

Skiing and enjoying Squaw Valley Lodge and Alpine Meadows the week before the holidays was movie star, Kim Novak. Another famous guest of the lodge was Prince William of Gloucester who is a student at Stanford but comes up frequently to ski.

Too bad! The Squaw Valley Junior Hockey team was defeated by Berkeley—1 to 0 last weekend. The team will play Walnut Creek on January 4, 6 p. m., at Blyth Arena.

Joel Sigismund of Tahoe Vista returned home after major surgery in Reno in time for the Christmas holidays. Joel, his mother, Isabelle de Luque spent Christmas in Sacramento with Isabelle's daughter and her husband, Iris and Irvin Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Christensen of Galt enjoyed Christmas with

SUMMIT SCENE

By FRAN COLLILLARD

Speaking or neighbors, as we were last week, we'd like to tell a good tale. You have heard the expression "what in the world do you do all of the time—what do you find to do in these isolated places?" We are enchanted by Carol Quinn (Mrs. Leo) and Marilyn Nix (Mrs. Al) of our particular little area known as Kingvale. Between these two—they have eight children.

"There's a certain amount of 'city living' and a certain amount of the regular training that a child needs—no matter where they live," said these two.

"Our youngsters are going to have these—even if we have to make the necessary innovations ourselves," said they.

So one Sunday morning this past summer—we noticed well dressed, scrubbed and hair combed little boys and girls entering the gates of the residential section of the highway maintenance edifice which we look at as we write this.

"Party" I thought. But it wasn't. It was Sunday school. The original "class" of eight—now has reached 20, and it is held every Sunday.

The Kingvale gals—have set up their own basketball team, practicing at the Donner Trail School. Carol, an expert skier, teaches the neighborhood youngsters skiing. Living is normal, well filled—and if anyone asks me again—"what

MONEY ALLOCATED TO COUNTY SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—The state department of education has announced the apportionment of $61,069,273 to school districts throughout the state for special purposes.

The funds were allocated for excess incurred in programs for physically handicapped ($910 per each in average daily attendance), mentally retarded ($375); severely mentally retarded ($670) transporation of severely mentally retarded and physically handicapped ($475), reimbursement for pupil transportation, and reimbursement for special programs for mentally gifted minors.

The superintendent for Nevada County received a total of $106,792 in the special apportionment. This included $4,676 for physically handicapped minors; $9,094 for mentally retarded minors; $5,095 for severely mentally retarded minors; $2,214 for transportation of severely mentally retarded and physically handicapped minors; $80,199 for pupil transportation and $5,514 for driver training.

FELONY CRIMES SHOW INCREASE IN STATE

Paced by a considerably higher percentage rise in burglary, the California index for felony crimes reported in the first half of 1963, rose 7.6 per cent, according to the Mid-Year Summary-1963 of the Bureau of Criminal Statistics of the State Department of Justice.

The seven major offense groups used in the index are willful homicide, aggravated assault, forcible rape, burglary, grand theft, auto theft, and robbery.

The report also indicated an increase in adult felony complaints of 11 per cent and a 1.9 per cent increase in felony filings in California superior courts. Juvenile arrests show an increase of 11.3 per cent above the rate for the first half of 1962.

Newer, Larger Equipment in Service To Keep Highways Clear of Snow

The State Division of Highways has added the "Snowblast" to its snow control equipment of Sierra highways. The new vehicles have a larger capacity than the long-familiar "Snow-Go" rotary plows.

A new special rotary plow has been added to the State Division of Highways' fleet of snow removal equipment on Interstate 80 in eastern Nevada County to help keep this heavily traveled transcontinental highway open during the winter.

The "Snowblast" has a larger capacity than the familiar "Snow-Go" rotary plows used for many years in the high Sierra and other snow regions in the state.

Undergoing shakedown run the past three weeks, the new plow will patrol out of the Kingvale maintenance station located west of Soda Springs and under the supervision of Highway Foreman L. C. Quinn. It is one of four stations under the direction of Highway Superintendent Frank Fox, head of the Truckee territory.

The powerful new unit is designed for high-speed snow removal and is capable of discharging 2,200 tons of snow per hour to a throw distance of about 85 feet. It was acquired to bolster the highway division's long-standing policy of keeping this route open all year.

Completion of the summit freeway will help considerably in maintaining a passable route during the snow season. However, for the motorist's safety during high winds and blizzards—and despite the best machinery and manpower—traffic must be held up temporarily on any highway because of the near-zero visibility.

R. I. Nicholson, district maintenance engineer of Marysville, said that the extra snow removal crews hired annually were put on duty last month.

The "Snowblast's" two engines, operator's cab, cutter blades and rotary blower are mounted on a 10-ton truck chassis equipped with four-wheel drive and four-wheel steering.

Drive engine for the machine is a 220-hp diesel with a six-speed forward automatic transmission. The four 16-ply tires are 14x20's.

The cutting blades and blower are powered by a 330-hp diesel with turbocharger for high altitude efficiency. Effective cutting width is seven feet.

The cab windshield is slanted inward toward the bottom to help prevent falling snow from actually hitting and sticking. On the operator's side, a special circular "wiper" has been inserted in the windshield. This is a piece of glass in a metal frame rotated at high speed by a belt drive from an electric motor which, in effect, gives the driver a large "port-hole" of clear visibility as the spinning glass whirls off the snow.

Moveable portions of the plow are hydraulically powered, and a complex control panel and battery of micro-switches run an automatic interval sequence designed to prevent operator error during various phases of starting, clutch engagement, and rotary operation.

The new "Snowblast" highway snow removal equipment can throw 2,200 tons of snow an hour, projecting it a distance of approximately 85 feet.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — There was an expression in usage some years ago that the best way to repair a certain car was to jack up the radiator cap and drive a new car under it, then replace the radiator cap.

This about describes the "repair" job Governor Edmund G. Brown and his resources aides have done on the Pacific Southwest Water Plan presented by Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall.

While many water groups in California flatly opposed the plan—the state senate's water resources committee said it was so faulty that no modifications would make it acceptable—Brown took a different approach. He gave qualified approval to the plan, while suggesting 24 modifications.

As the governor once said, it's a matter of semantics whether it's plan is rejected, or whether it's approved with modifications which make a new plan of it.

Nevertheless, the governor's real approval is for the concept of some sort of regional development of water in the western states. The handwriting definitely was written on the wall by the U. S. Supreme Court as to what California can expect from the Colorado River in the future. Under the most ideal conditions, the state's water supply from that source will be cut from 5,362,000 acre feet a year to 4.4 million acre feet, in less than 20 years.

Perhaps of most immediate concern to California in the PSPW was the proposal for the federal government to participate in enlarging the aqueduct in the state water project which will carry water south of the Tehachapi. Most water experts recommended against this proposal because the aqueduct actually will be under construction by October 1, 1964, and there is little or no chance congress could authorize funds for the enlargement by that time.

Brown's official comments to Udall endorse federal participation in the enlargement of the aqueduct, but only if congress can authorize it and provide the money by next July 1. Congress this year has not authorized many of the funds that normally would have been voted months ago so the gesture of approving federal participation in the aqueduct if the money is voted by next July 1 is only a gesture.

Going back to the expression about jacking up the radiator cap, the one point in Udall's plan which brought no disagreement from California was the establishment of a salt water conversion plant in San Diego. After Brown's plan drives the new automobile in under the radiator cap—the sea water conversion plant—his comments then suggest that consideration be given to construction of a combination sea water conversion and power generation plant, with power supplied by nuclear energy. It could be weeks before the average person understands just what Secretary Udall's plan entails and weeks beyond that before he understands what Brown's comments indicate. As for computing a combination of the plan and the comments at this time, it's anyone's guess.

But the governor basically is right in two, and perhaps three premises. No. 1, California is fac-

BROWN WILL OPPOSE STATE-WIDE LOTTERY

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown said he just didn't feel a state lottery would work in California.

"I oppose it—not on any moral grounds—because gambling in my opinion is not immoral," Brown told a capitol news conference. "It's immoral only if you're using other people's money or money that should go to your family or something similar to that."

The governor was asked for comments on the filing of a request for a title for petitions to qualify a lottery initiative for the election ballot next year. The request for the title was submitted to the attorney general's office.

The plan calls for appointment of a three-member lottery commission by the governor and requires the commission to grant only one license, to the American Sweepstakes Corporation. The license would be for 10 years and would have to go to this firm "due to the promotional work and financial expenditure to inform and educate the citizens of this state concerning this lottery initiative measure."

"What a job that one is," Brown commented. "I mean, to think that these promoters really feel they could sell the people of the state of California on a lottery and give them a percentage of the profits for a period of 10 years."

"But let me tell you this," he continued. "This is one of the problems with lotteries. Lotteries are very seductive, and they have a real appeal to the people, because it looks like it doesn't cost you anything."

"But the history of the United States shows that, in the U. S., when one state has a lottery then other states will follow and then you'll have private individuals with their illicit lotteries where they give more money than the state is giving," he said.

ing a water shortage which will make some bold plans to solve. No. 2, the solution of water shortages in California, and the other western states will take some sort of joint regional development.

The third premise is that, by making the study of the Udall plan, Brown's alternative and other proposals for water development in the Columbia and Snake Rivers, the eventual solution of water problems for the country west of the Rockies may be found.

This would seem to be sound logic and the only question remaining is if there is sufficient time for reasonable consideration of all alternatives and eventual construction of projects before the real kind of the water shortage is felt. This is under 20 years in the future.

Teens Turn Out by Thousands To Join March of Dimes TAP's

Thousands of teenagers across the nation have found a way to have fun while doing an important community project.

They have joined the Teen Age Program (TAP) of the 1964 March of Dimes the fight against birth defects and arthritis.

Many are helping to carry out the public education program against birth defects, today's greatest unsolved childhood medical problem. Others are assigned to help with the Mothers' March for the March of Dimes. A great many choose to think up their own projects in their schools or suburbs.

Whatever job, it is important, because the fight against birth defects is vital to every young person who plans to have his own family someday, after completing school and career preparations.

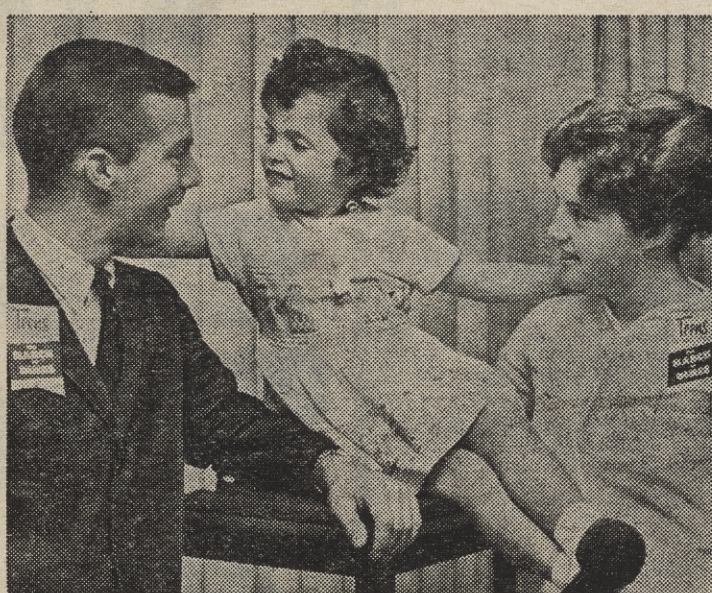

Heading the TAP program are Judy Meyers, 18, Aurora, Colo., and Philip Dawson, also 18, Jamestown, N. Y., who are the national TAP co-chairmen for the 1964 March of Dimes this January.

Judy, a freshman at the University of Colorado, was a vice president of Mu Alpha Theta, mathematics honor society at Aurora High School, and Philip, a freshman at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was a member of the National Honor Society at Jamestown High School.

Both young people feel that a high scholastic rating is not only desirable but necessary in today's world. Both feel that good marks give a teen leader added prestige with his peers.

"It's terribly old-fashioned to think that the Big Man on Campus is a 'C' student," Judy and Philip said. "More often than not, he's an 'A' student who is also aware of the importance of community activities."

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Meyers of Aurora. She became a March of Dimes volunteer several years ago because she wanted

GETTING TO KNOW YOU: Little Virginia Paige, 5, who was born with a birth defect, gets acquainted with Philip Dawson, 18, of Jamestown, N. Y., and Judy Meyers, also 18, of Aurora, Colo., who were appointed national co-chairmen for the 1964 Teen Age Program (TAP) of the March of Dimes. Thanks to the latest medical techniques, provided by March of Dimes funds, you'd never know that Virginia, who lives in New York with her parents, was born with a serious birth defect.

"to do something useful." She decided to study languages at the University of Colorado for the same reason, because she thinks that linguists can be of service to their country in the coming years.

Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dawson of Jamestown, comes from a family active in community service. His father is a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church of Jamestown, and a district commissioner for the Boy Scouts of America. Philip first heard of the March of Dimes through his mother, who was active in the Mothers' March for the March of Dimes during the years the Salk vaccine was being developed and tested.

Currently, Philip plans to go on to law school after college. He has tentative plans for a career in politics, "because I feel that this is an interesting part of our present-day life."

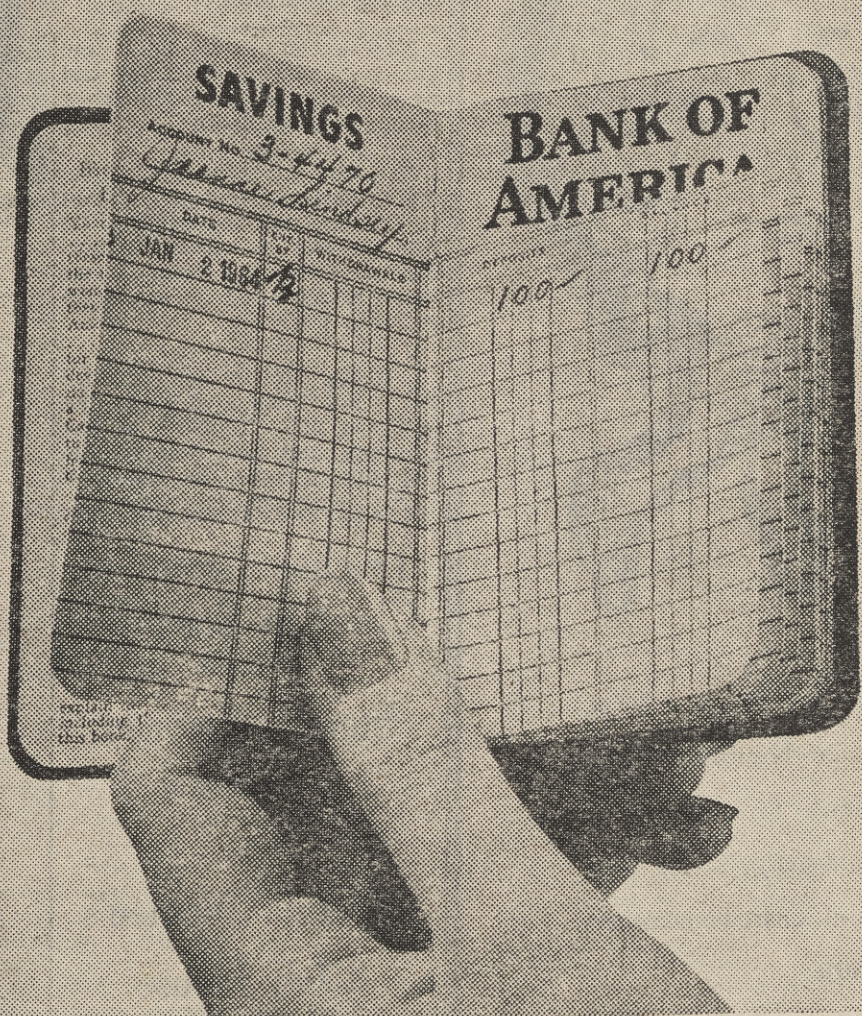

Both young people feel that if teens throughout the country are told the importance of the March of Dimes programs against birth defects, arthritis and polio, they will volunteer in great numbers for January's March of Dimes.

They based their predictions on two things, (1) neither Philip nor Judy ever had any trouble in finding volunteers for their March of Dimes projects in their home states, and (2) both teens pointed to the fact that the Peace Corps never has any trouble in finding volunteers.

"Young people today want to do something useful, along with putting forth every effort to do justice to their scholastic programs," the two national March of Dimes volunteers said. "Just because a teen wears sloppy clothes sometimes and is a little loud other times doesn't mean that he doesn't want to do something worthwhile. The vast majority of teens want very much to be good, useful citizens."

children Sharon, Arman and Gary, of Agate Bay.

Jack and Velda Farris of Kings Beach went to Los Angeles for the holidays. Spent Christmas with daughter and family, Sandy and George Pergin and baby daughter, Gina, of Fontana and Velda's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleming of North Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clarey and children, Kirsten, Karen and Tammy spent Christmas with his sister and family, Gen and James Brockelsby and children, Greg, Rhonda and Debbie. The Clareys have recently moved to Kings Beach from the middle east.

Michael Robinson of Fresno was a Christmas guest to the Incline Village home of his mother, Gwen Robinson.

Entertaining at an open house and buffet supper at their Incline Village home for friends were Joe and Kathy Crow.

Fairfax and Novato were the Christmas destination for Bob and Tally Daneri of Kings Beach who spent the holiday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daneri.

Christmas guests of John and Jerry Rayburn of Incline Village were Tom and Theresa Sutton of Kings Beach, Theresa's son and family, Frank and Joan Apichino and children, David and Ricky, from the south shore, Carl and Betty Moran of Carson City and E. J. and Helen Stokes of Kings Beach.

A party to announce the engagement of Kitty Foote, daughter of Grover and Sally Foote of Incline Village and Melvin Hillier, son of Milva Jones of Crystal Shores, was held in the Topaz Room of the Nevada Lodge on Sunday night. Guests enjoyed a beautiful buffet supper and entertainment.

Melvin is a senior at Chico State College and Kitty a student at Arizona State will transfer to Chico this coming semester. The young couple met after their families moved to Incline Village as neighbors. A June wedding is planned. Many guests from Grass Valley attended the party as the Hilliers made their home in that city before moving to Incline Village.

The Christmas meeting of the Lydia Circle was held at the home of Louise Anderson, president, at Tahoe Vista. Ann Mandeville and Noreen Marx presented a program of scripture readings, caroling and a reading of the book "The Other Wise Men." The next meeting is to be held January 6 at the home of Ann Mandeville at Kings Beach.

Dale Malmgren of Battle Mountain stopped at Tahoe Vista Christmas Day to give best wishes to Jetta Steward.

The senior M.Y.F. of the Kings Beach Methodist Community Church met recently at the Achziger home in Kings Beach for breakfast. Purpose of the meeting was the election of officers. Estelle Howell was elected president, Rod Achziger vice president; Nancy Barker, secretary; Wendy Howell, treasurer; Mike Bergwin, reporter. Plans were discussed for a future potluck supper with date to be announced.

Vera Mosier of Crystal Bay, who is spending the winter in Hawaii, was proud to have her great grandson, Lane Arthur Cooper of Sacramento, son of Pamlynn and Frederic Cooper, baptised at the Kings Beach Methodist Church before her departure.

Attorney Max Early of Incline Village is moving into new and larger offices in the North Tahoe Village at Kings Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Rick, new residents in Kings Beach from the bay area and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cantrell, who are moving to Burlingame, were Christmas Day guests of John and Noreen Cron at Tahoe Vista.

Marlea Draney of Incline Beach, Bob Tomblin of Sierra College and Judy Tamblin of San Francisco, and John Franz of Nevada City attended the East-West game in San Francisco.

The V. F. W. Auxiliary has scheduled a meeting for January 8 at the Crystal Bay Club according to President Esther Horstman. Reports from the various committee activities will be made and future projects for the year discussed.

The Women's Club of North Tahoe will meet at the home of Sophie Levra in Kings Beach on Monday, January 6 at 2 p. m. An installation tea for the new officers will precede the tea. Committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Theresa Sutton, Dorothy Whitley, Louise Walter, Ruth Mizner and Letha Newlun. Installation officer will be Pearl Draney. The new president will be Inez Jordan; vice president, Jacqueline Black; treasurer, Virginia Engelhard and secretary Louise Walter. Members and their guests are cordially invited to attend the tea.

Jimmy Hume of Incline Beach is at home recuperating from major surgery and getting along very nicely. Jimmy and Emma Jean's daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Signorina and children, Jamie and Charles, Jr. spent Christmas with them coming up from their home at Temple City.

The M. H. Dodds of Carnelian Bay visited friends at Carmel, Long Beach and San Bernardino prior to Mr. Dodds attending the state board of directors meeting of the CREA in San Diego. Friends remained at their residence during their absence.

Alan Newell of Newark visited his son, Alan, at Kings Beach over the holidays.

Mrs. Claire Engman and son, Leif, of Sonoma were weekend guests of Bill and Alice McDonald and children at Kings Beach.

Don't forget the show at the Crystal Bay Club sponsored by the Tahoe Squaws presenting the Sierra Winter Stock in "Separate Rooms," Thursday night is a dinner show scheduled for 7 p. m. and Friday night, January 10 a show only at 8:30 p. m. The following week the dinner show is on Friday night, January 17, 7 p. m. and Thursday's show only is at 7:30 p. m.

Hear it is a good show and those attending should have an enjoyable evening.

Dick and Ruth Lavery of Agate Bay spent the holidays visiting friends and relatives in San Francisco and Sacramento.

Richard Ziegler of Kings Beach spent Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Toni Ziegler, sister, Joanna, brother, Robert, at Los Gatos.

The Ray Bolgers were guests of the Carl Ravazzas at their Crystal Shores town house. It is just possible from the impression that Crystal Shores made on the Bolgers that they may become residents of the North Shore. Bolger has been appearing at the Sparks Nugget but he is no stranger to the North Shore having appeared at Cal-Neva several times in the past. He is one of the greatest and we wish he would play a return engagement at the North Shore.

FISH ARE KILLED TO PROVIDE IMPROVED FISHING CONDITIONS

By Jerry Harrell

(In Outdoor California, Official Publication of California Department of Fish and Game)

Fish are being killed to improve fishing in California.

As a result you won't find any fish in Boca Reservoir on the Little Truckee River.

You wouldn't have found many trout, anyway. They'd been crowded out in the fierce competition with rough fish like the chub, sucker, carp and minnow.

Fisheries workers of the State Fish and Game Department crisscrossed the lake early in October with three outboard motorboats equipped with tanks to spread a chemical fish killer.

Within minutes the chemical, liquid rotenone, was sending dead and dying fish to the lake's surface. The chemical is harmless to mammals but kills fish by constricting their gills and causing suffocation.

The lake, already low because of drainage for irrigation water, had been drawn down further at the Fish and Game Department's request. That prevented pollution of the stream below the outlet.

The rotenone dissipates within about a month. The lake is being restocked with trout. There will be trout fishing late next year and probably top angling by opening day 1965.

The Boca treatment was part of a $15,000-a-year program to improve angling, primarily for trout, in California. In an average year, the State treats 65 miles of stream and 13,000 surface acres of lakes and reservoirs.

Effective Management
"It's an effective means of managing fish," says Jim Ryan, coordinator of federal aid fisheries projects for the Fish and Game Department. "But it's not a cure-all."

Rough fish have a way of coming back, particularly in waters where anglers ignore the laws against using live minnows for a bait. A few minnows—voracious eaters and prolific breeders—can breed a rough fish infestation and squeeze out the game-fish.

Money for the lake treatment program comes from federal Dingell-Johnson Act funds, collected from taxes on fishing tackle.

Regional fisheries workers make field surveys of trout waters and report to the Fish and Game Department when treatment is needed.

Creel checks and samples of fish populations gathered in nets by fish biologists are made to confirm the need for treatment.

Seining at Boca produced a count of several hundred chubs to one trout. There weren't enough trout to warrant a salvage operation, in which trout are captured and kept alive in tanks.

Controls are strict, and federal funds can't be spent unless the need for chemical treatment is proved.

No Harm
Rottenone is used because it is absorbed fairly quickly, within a month or so, and because it does not harm other forms of life.

The department had one unhappy experience—and controversy—after treating a Southern California lake with a chlorinated hydrocarbon. This type of chemical does not break down in the tissue of fish, and caused "secondary" kills of birds which ate the fish.

The department says the program generally is accepted by anglers, however.

One fisherman at Boca agreed after catching 10 chubs but not trout.

"This is a good deal, getting those chubs out of here," he said. "Now we'll get our trout back."

RICHARD ANGER IS HONORED BY UNIT

A/1c Richard W. Anger

McClellan AFB—Airman First Class Richard W. Anger of Escondido, Calif., has been selected Outstanding Airman of the month in the 965th Airborne Early Warning and Control Squadron here.

Airman Anger, a United States Air Force airborne radar operator, was chosen for the honor in recognition of his exemplary conduct and performance of duty. He was presented a cash award for his achievement.

The airman, who attended Escondido Union High School, is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Schwiager of Tahoe City. His wife, Pearl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Young, Poway, Calif.

COORDINATING BODY CHOSEN BY BROWN

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown has announced the appointment of 18 members to a coordinating council on urban policy, primarily a study commission which will report findings and make recommendations to the governor.

"Urban problems are human problems and, as we ignore them or solve them, we impoverish or make richer the lives of our citizens, 86 per cent of whom now live in California's great metropolitan centers," Brown said.

Lieutenant Governor Glenn M. Anderson has consented to act as chairman of the council until a permanent one is appointed. Sheriff Luke, Brown's secretary for urban affairs, will serve as executive secretary.

VETERANS ENDORSE NEVADA ATTORNEY

CRYSTAL BAY—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 7077 of Crystal Bay, with other posts of District III, has endorsed Leslie M. Frey, Reno attorney for the post of national junior vice-commander-in-chief.

The endorsement was made at a well attended meeting held at Sparks.

Frey, in confirming his candidacy, said he is planning a vigorous campaign from now until the national convention is held in Cleveland in August 1964. Frey, past 17th District national council member, representing California, Nevada and Oregon, past commander of the Department of Nevada and holder of numerous other offices in his district and post, is also known throughout Nevada and neighboring states for his long service with the Boy Scouts of America. He is a member of the Lions Club, Masonic order and Nevada Bar Association.

Heading Frey's campaign for the national post is Joseph Feldstein, past Department of Nevada commander and currently employed at the Sierra Sun in Truckee.

Ski Patrol To Meet At Tahoe On Jan. 7

TAHOE CITY — The January meeting of the Tahoe City Ski Patrol will be held January 7, at 7:30 p. m. at the Tahoe Alumni Center, near Granlibakkan. The business of the meeting will be a general discussion of the obligations of individual patrolmen to the local skiing areas as well as to the general public; the importance of tact and courtesy in dealing with people; hints for speeding up and improving first aid on the hill.

Supplies have arrived from Denver and will be distributed to those who have ordered belts and manuals.

A new treasurer, Fred Hodder, was elected at the last meeting. The highlight of the last meeting were some very interesting films by Paul Rivard. Anyone who might wish to contribute to the entertainment with appropriate movies or slides is cordially invited to do so.

The patrol will try to set up a new set of courses starting in January with Standard First Aid. Anyone interested (not necessarily patrolmen) may contact Bo Holden, JU 3-3349 or Ruth Knight, LU 7-3089.

SUMMIT SERVICES

Father Patrick Coffey announced this week that starting Sunday Catholic services will be held at Beacon Hill Lodge on Donner Summit at 8 a. m. during the skiing season. Visiting priests from the valley will conduct the services.

SUMMARY GIVEN

tion would be in September, 1964.

The Truckee-Donner Lake incorporation, based on a tentative tax rate of $1 for 1965-66, and without taking into account increased revenues from a registration campaign and before considering the benefits of assuming operation of the public utility district would have the following effect upon existing property tax rates:

Truckee area—a decrease of 56 cents.

Donner Lake area—an increase of $1.

These figures do not take into account the change in tax rates which would result from Donner Lake's recent annexation to the Truckee Sanitary District and which would, prior to a sewer bond issue, probably result in an increase in Donner Lake taxes and a decrease in Truckee taxes in any case, although in a lesser amount.

Three fiscal benefits would arise from the city's operation of its own electric and water utilities:

1. A decrease in operational costs for the first full fiscal year of approximately $29,500. This would result from savings in legislative, administrative, legal, insurance, heat, light, power, telephone costs, plus savings in building rental, office equipment and the cost of street, sidewalk, curb, parkway and sewer maintenance and operation.

2. A city can transfer to its general operating fund an annual payment in lieu of taxes from its city-operated public utilities. The consultant conservatively estimates about $3,500 for the first full fiscal year.

3. Substantial properties are owned in fee by the utility district. These properties could possibly be made jointly available for other interim public use.

Taking into account the $29,500 cost reduction and the $3,500 payment in lieu taxes, we find that the resulting $33,000 would decrease the necessary city property tax approximately 59 cents.

If Truckee Donner Lake were incorporated, the new city would finish the year with $12,784 in operating surplus, plus $21,655 in available gas tax funds.

BOARD GIVES NOD TO INCLINE TRAILER PLAN

RENO—Washoe County commissioners last Thursday approved a trailer park permit for a 140-space development near Incline Beach when anticipated opposition to the action failed to develop.

The area, to be known as Home Park, will have full sewer facilities and a swimming pool, among other features included in plans submitted to the commissioners.

Robert L. McDonald, attorney for developer William Anderson, told the board, "this trailer park project will be way up on the side of the mountain, secluded from the residential district."

Opposition to the trailer court was recently voiced by Washoe County Manager C. B. Kinnison who suggested that school authorities be contacted before the large development be approved.

He said the shock impact of trailer courts is tremendous and can spring up overnight and cause bad overloading at nearby schools.

STUDENTS HAVE LOOK AT SAN LUIS PLANT

SAN LUIS OBISPO — One hundred high school students from throughout California, including Steve Besio of Truckee, all of them professing interest in the engineering field, got a close-up look at career possibilities in that profession when they participated in the fourth annual Engineering Preview at California State Polytechnic College.

The young men, all either high school juniors or seniors, converged on the Cal Poly campus December 19 and completed their three-day stay December 20.

The Engineering Preview, co-sponsored by the Western Air Conditioning Industries Association and the college's Engineering Division, gave the high school students a chance to learn about the specialized aspects of analog and digital computers and of mechanical, thermal, and fluid systems.

ALPINE SKI RULES EXPLAINED AT MEET

SQUAW VALLEY—The Federation of International Skiing's recently revised Alpine competition rules were explained to winter sports enthusiasts during a meeting of the Far West Certified Ski Officials Association.

More than 25 clubs and intercollegiate officials gathered for the briefing in the five circle room of the Squaw Valley Lodge.

The need for additional expert competitive officials was stressed by Stan Walton of Sacramento, president of the association.

The discussion of FIS rules was directed by Tad Deal of San Mateo, a former national race official from Colorado, and Axel Davidson of Menlo Park.

Walton said the certified officials group is pleased highly because of attendance by sportsmen of the Sierra Loop.

He said continued interest will assure the success of major competitions this winter, including the National Veterans Alpine Championships on March 13 to 15 in Squaw Valley and the National Junior Four way Tourney on March 16 to 21 at Alpine Meadows and Squaw Valley.

Re-Enlists—

Steve Randall signed up with the U. S. Navy for six years more, having completed a three year enlistment. He is reporting to the San Diego base.

Houlgates Are Hosts—

Mr. and Mrs. John Houlgate and children were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Houlgate, Miss Eileen Houlgate, John Service of Canada and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Coats of Fremont.

Stock Company To Present Play Soon

TAHOE CITY — Two local organizations, the Sierra Winter Stock Co. and the Tahoe Squaws, are cooperating to produce a production of "Separate Rooms" to be shown in the Crystal Room of the Crystal Bay Club soon.

The sets are being completed and the cast is in its final weeks of rehearsals under the directorship of David Stolley. Stolley is a friend of the authors, Joe Caroe and Alan Dinehart, and is well qualified to direct this particular play having been cast in it himself in earlier years.

It is with a long background of professional acting experience that this director pulls the various threads of the different personalities together to create the lively spirit of this witty, humorous and thoroughly enjoyable play.

The setting takes place in a New York penthouse apartment. It concerns a selfish ambitious actress, played by Barbara Gillmore, who marries a successful playwright, by Randy Fox, against the advice of his brother, a cynical newspaper columnist played by David Stolley. A millionaire playboy, played by Mike Laferrier, complicates the scene as well as the marriage.

A butler such as none has ever known, played by Marvin Schwartz, adds to the vitality of the drama. Also in the cast are a young and enthusiastic press agent played by David Merrick, a long suffering secretary, by Debbie Laferrier, and a woman journalist, Marguerite Ashton, who with some bewildering interviews the great actress.

The play is being sponsored by the Tahoe Squaws under the general chairman ship of Mrs. James McCafferty and Mrs. Robert Fugazi. All proceeds go toward the educational benefits of the community.

Two dinner shows are being given on Thursday, January 9, opening night, and on Friday, January 17, closing night. Two regular shows are being held Friday, January 10 and Thursday, January 16. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the two organizations.

INCORPORATION FOR DISTRICT PROPOSED

Placer County Clerk Maurine I. Dobbas announces the county supervisors will hold hearings on a proposal to incorporate the Squaw Valley Water District next Tuesday.

A petition, circulated by Elizabeth M. Renner of Tahoe City, calls for creation of a district under provisions of the County Water District law, Division 12 of the State Water Code. The matter will be the subject of a public hearing at the Court House in Auburn in the board chambers, beginning at 11 a. m. January 7.

All interested persons are invited to appear, witness the proceedings and testify before the supervisors, the clerk stated.

PLACER BOARD HAS MATTERS FOR LAKE

In their December sessions, Placer County supervisors scheduled hearings on a petition to reorganize the Tahoe City Fire Protection District, pursuant to the State Fire Protection District Law of 1961.

On January 7 at 10:30 a. m. the board will hold hearings on a petition for formation of a Lakeshore Estates Lighting District.

Among other business before the county governing board of specific concern to the Lake Tahoe area was receipt of a letter protesting assessment on Carnelian Bay lots, referred to the county assessor; receipt of notice from state public health department declaring the county a rabies area; passage of a resolution designating certain roads in Timberland Tract as county roads; discussion of scheduling meetings with utility district officials in the Lake Tahoe area to discuss sewage, pollution and potential contamination problems; postponement for one month action on the application of Russell N. Pines Motel, Tahoe City, for adjustment relating to size of signs for outdoor advertising.

RAY BOLGER VISITS SUGAR BOWL AREA

SUGAR BOWL — During the weekend before Christmas, the Sugar Bowl was brightened with the happy personality of the world-famed performer, Ray Bolger, who was appearing at a Reno night spot.

He was a the guest of Mrs. Dorothea Walker, a householder at the Sugar Bowl and while his profession of dancing prevents him from skiing, he spent a day looking over the many improvements and capped the day off with a ride up the Mt.
